PREFACE

We, the Class of 1950, graduate at a time when it is the accepted thing to attempt to look into the future to see what is in store for us. But let us first recollect the past. In looking back through the years, we shall have innumerable memories of our life spent here at Bulkeley. We shall recall, with happy remembrance, the friendships we've made, the care-free moments we've enjoyed, and the time spent in just being a part of Bulkeley.

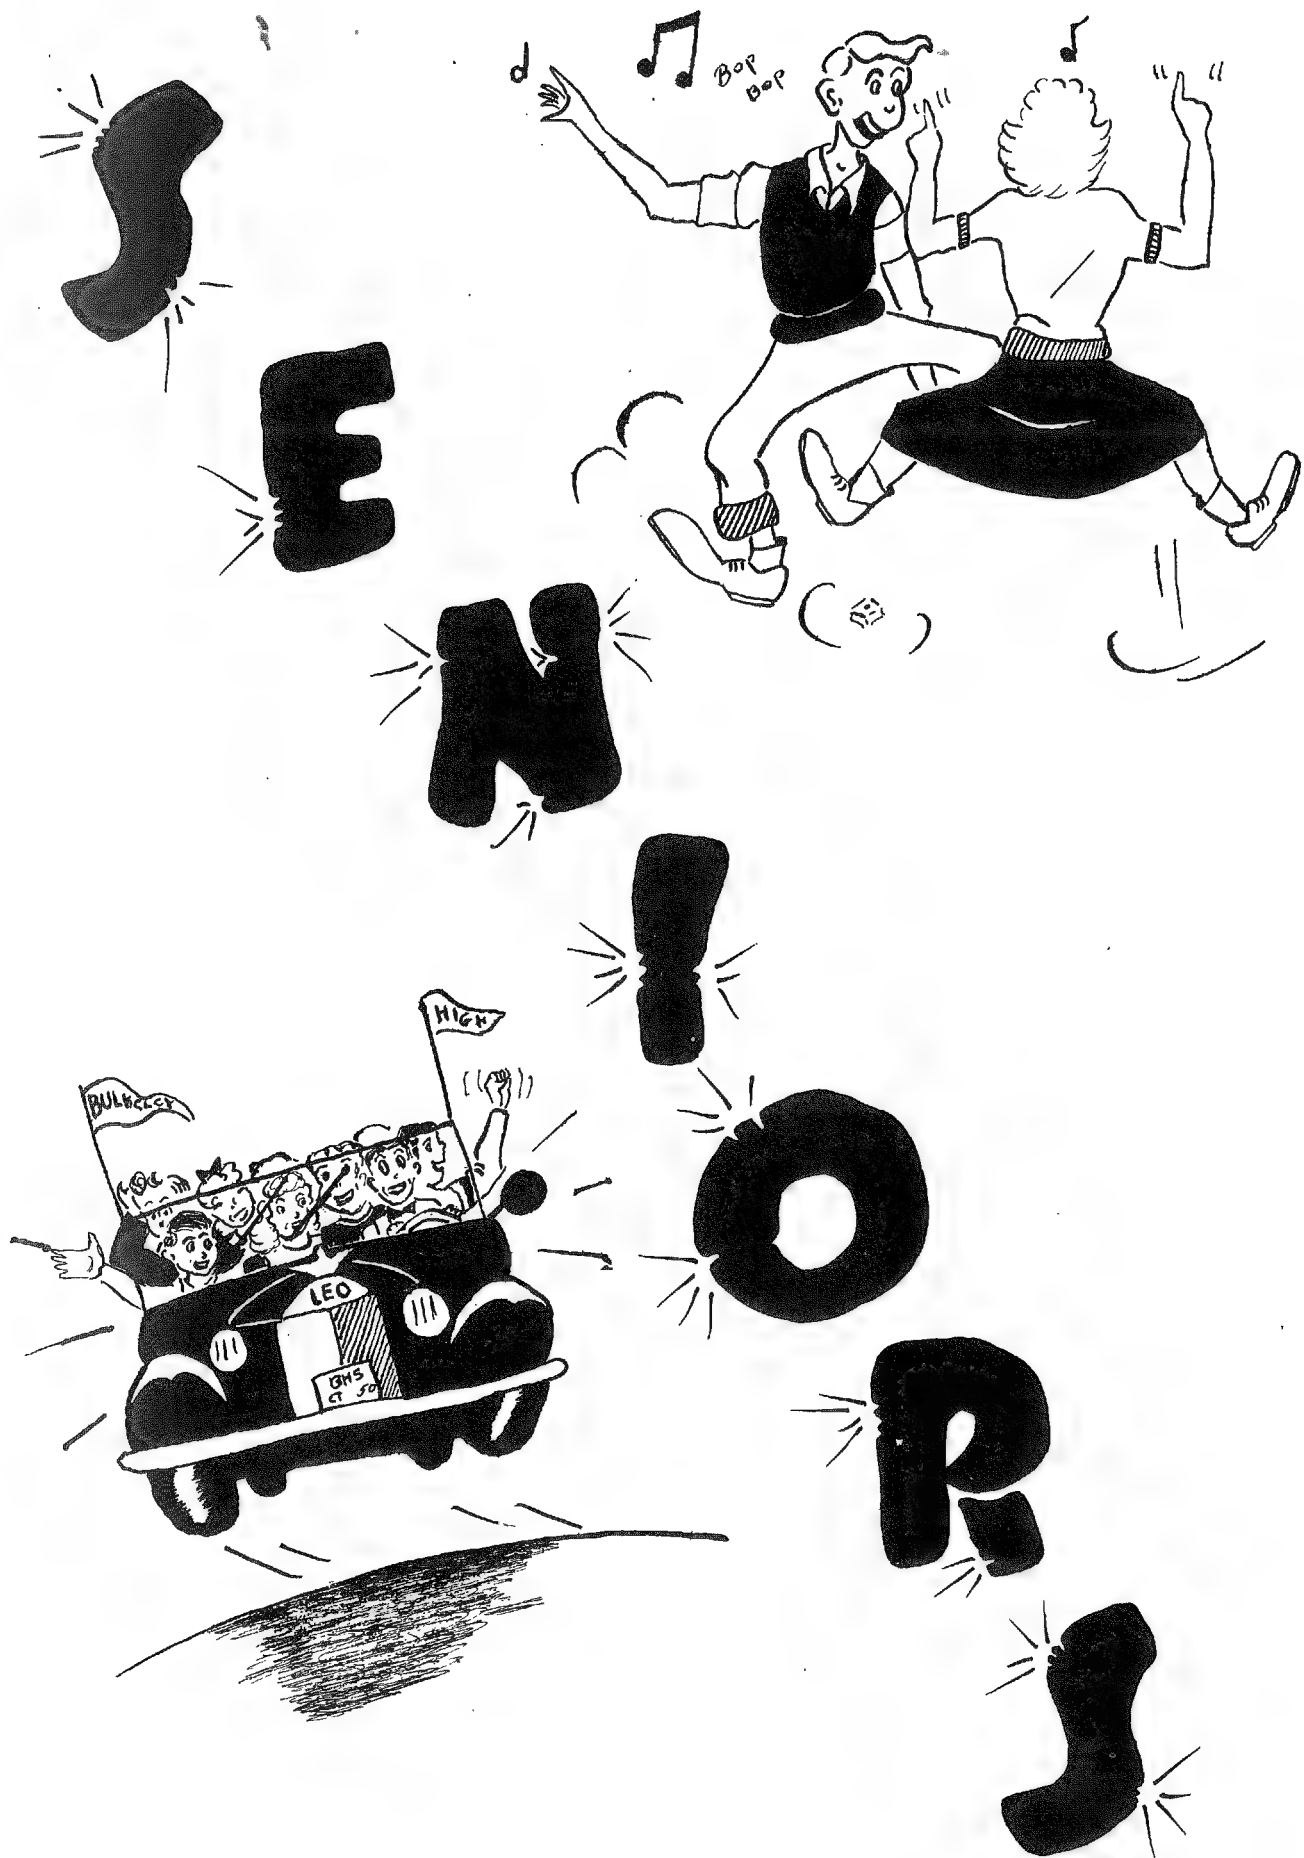

The future now comes into view. It holds many possibilities; a twist of fate here or there may change the whole complexion of what lies before us. But we have received at Bulkeley all we need to cope with the future. We confidently step forward into the oncoming years with the knowledge that we have been thoroughly inculcated with the ideals of Bulkeley High.

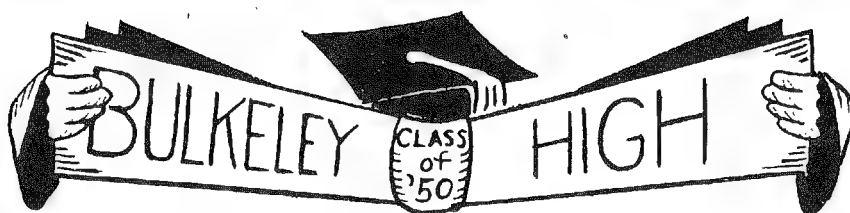

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to all those teachers and pupils who have willingly co-operated in the editing of this book; to Mr. McCrann especially for his untiring assistance and invaluable advice; to the office staff for their unselfish interest and willing aid; to Mr. McElney and Miss Safford for their wonderful spirit and excellent advice to the Business and Art Boards; to Art Editor Joan DeBenedetto and the talented art students who have contributed excellent sketches, Raymond Kolodziej, George Cataldi, Mary Amaio, Marie DiGregorio; and to the Head Typist Edna Hollerieth and her wonderful assistants Lucy Bucheri, Dorothy Eureich, Lucille Flanigan, Lucille Gozzo, Anna Jablonski, and Roxanne Sposito, who have given a great deal of their time and effort to make the Typing Staff both capable and competent; to Ignazio E. Salone for his vivid sports coverage; to the Photography Club, especially Stanley Phillips, for contributing the excellent candid shots which have added color to the Class Book; and to all others who have in any way contributed to its success. We wish to thank especially the Loring Studio, which has so generously presented us with the wonderful page of "Torch Nite" shots, and the artistic print of Alan Stenberg.

In special acknowledgment of her untiring aid, cheerful guidance, and seemingly endless patience, we wish to thank Miss Dorothy Potter, knowing how often she has helped us pull through when the going was rough. We hope that nostalgic recollections of the past will come again with every reading and re-reading of this volume.

CLASS NIGHT CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

On behalf of the graduates, I welcome our parents and teachers to the Class Night of nineteen-fifty. Our four high school years have been laborious ones, but the satisfaction we have gained as a result of our achievements has more than compensated for our hard work. As a result of our experiences, we have realized that to attain successfully a worthwhile goal, one must not loiter too long on the primrose path.

It has been the purpose of our faculty not to teach us to remember facts, but to teach us the technique with which we must face, analyze, and solve the various problems of life. That is education. For their tireless efforts, which indeed have not been futile, we are sincerely grateful. We are determined to make ourselves worthy citizens, and in that way prove to you, our parents and teachers, that you have every reason to take pride in us. We want to make you realize that your efforts have not been in vain. It is our desire that in this way we may return to you the abundant joy that you have brought to us.

We, the students, know that this Class Night will be memorable and enjoyable for us. Our program is designed to help make this a pleasant and happy evening for you.

—ROBERT PIKUL

CLASS ORATION

What About The Next 50 Years?

The Class of 1950 finds itself graduating into an atmosphere of half-century celebration. We read continually of the outstanding personages of the past fifty years, and of the important and exciting events which have occurred since 1900. We have now reached the midway mark in probably the most astounding century in history, and are looking ahead to the next fifty years with some anxiety. But first let us look over our history books and recent newspapers in an attempt to discover the facts which have made these past fifty years such a remarkable period of time.

At the close of the nineteenth century the outlook for prosperity in the years to follow was very favorable. America was at the stage of development in which a young, ambitious nation can either wax great or become a parasite, depending for its existence upon stronger countries. Fortunately, the United States took the former path, and gradually reached its present position as the greatest nation in the world.

These fifty years became the period during which science was to become a prime factor in the affairs of the world. This was immediately noted when, at the start of the century, medicine, working with scientific experimentations, began a thorough study of the diseases most prevalent at the time, and determined to fight these maladies with all possible force. The result of this remarkable campaign against disease is obvious to all. Today we see many drives for money with which to educate the people in methods of defeating these diseases. Science not only advanced the study of medicine, but brought about development of the aviation, automobile, and innumerable other industries. It opened new fields of endeavor which would eventually employ countless persons.

While science was thus developing, a feeling of unrest gradually increased throughout the world. Finally in 1914 war broke out which enveloped the world, causing America to take sides against a way of thinking which it disliked, and was determined to suppress. The German theory of nationalism, though overcome on the battle field, left the seeds of thought which in later years grew into Naziism.

After the first World War, the people of every country took up their tasks and started again on the road to progress which was to mark the spirit of the century. In this seemingly peaceful time, uprisings were brewing in Europe and Asia, and out of this turmoil rose Adolf Hitler, a man who was to be hated by his enemies as few men had been hated before. "Naziism" and Hitler convinced the German people that they could rule the world. The neglect of the conquering nations of World War I allowed Hitler to assemble a powerful army and navy, and soon he started a campaign to bring the world under his heel.

In Russia after the war another "ism" began to grow strong. In a revolution by which the Czar was overthrown, "Bolshevism" took over the government. This event was to have dire consequences, although at the time not too much was thought of it.

Meanwhile, all Europe was in an uproar as the Nazis advanced in their attempt to conquer the world. America entered the war when a sneak attack on Pearl Harbor caused us to become a participant in the most destructive, blood-thirsty, and terrible war in history. After long and tedious years, during which countless lives were lost, the Nazis and Japanese were subdued.

In an effort to bring about lasting world peace, an assembly of representatives from peace-loving nations came into existence. This assembly, the United Nations, has accomplished very little of constructive value in five years of existence, mainly because of the unwillingness of Russia to agree with the other nations. The idea, however, has very wisely not been given up, and we are still looking toward the U. N. to bring a world peace which will endure.

This brings us up to the present time. Certainly there is not peace in the world today. The first part of this century marked a decline in religious belief by Christian people. This deficiency has been partially overcome recently, but now a new and dangerous "ism" has reared its ugly head against religion, Communism, which is a direct descendant of Bolshevism. The growth of Communism was checked last year in Europe, but its advance in the Far East continued, resulting in the recent conquest of China. Communism, which respects no religious belief, but rather persecutes people for their belief in God, is a very real threat to world peace.

"The atomic age" is a favorite name for the present period, because of the creation of the atomic bomb, whose destructive power was witnessed by the horrified people of Japan. But now the big brother of the atom bomb, the hydrogen bomb, is said to be infinitely more devastating than its predecessor. We ask these questions: "Has science gone too far in its explorations? Should science continue its delving into the mysteries of our universe?" This point may be argued by both sides in an attempt either to justify or condemn the curiosity of modern science. Perhaps the answer to this question is up to the United Nations, which as yet has been unsuccessful in its attempts to bring about world peace. In any event, this question must be answered eventually, and upon the decision rests the fate of the remainder of the twentieth century.

The United States, as a world-recognized power, will play an important part in the activities of the next fifty years, and will have to cope with Communism at its height. The responsibilities of this situation rest on the shoulders of the high school and college graduates of this immediate period. We ask, "What about the next fifty years?" The answer to this query lies with the "Half-Century Graduates." Shall we be found wanting in this crisis?

CLASS ESSAY

Neighbors

In recent years we have heard much about the good neighbor policy. Today it plays a vital role in national and international politics and relations. Good neighbors are not made as a result of eloquent speeches spoken during political campaigns or as a result of fiery denunciations of uncooperative countries. The people who are going to help the world achieve peace will be those who have grown up practising neighborly habits in the home, in the school, and in the community. Many good neighbors have been developed in Bulkeley High School, and such students will have much to contribute to their jobs and to their city in future years because they have grasped the idea that friendship, kindness, and generosity will bring happiness to others, as well as personal satisfaction to themselves.

How can we expect our adult society to achieve peace and understanding with the world powers if the youth of today, our future adults, do not realize how very important it is to learn to get along with others? Young Americans have the opportunity to become respected citizens right in their own neighborhoods. They should not ignore this opportunity.

You can always tell who is a good neighbor. He is the person you choose for a friend; he is the one whose acquaintance you seek to make; he is the one who you often boast is one of your associates. It is a wonderful feeling to know that we have friends who speak well of us to others and who come to our aid if we need their help. All of us could spend time trying to cultivate such valuable companions. Take notice of the individual who has a great many friends, and you will notice that that person shows respect and courtesy to everyone around him, and is always natural and sincere.

Yet how many people have completely misinterpreted the whole meaning of neighborliness. There are the inquisitive ones who think they are helpful and friendly by keeping tabs on all their friends and their friends' friends. They are usually the story-tellers who pass on all their information and "misinformation" to anyone who will listen. What they've seen, they may exaggerate; and if they've missed anything, it's quite likely they will fill in with their own distorted details. In this way, they feel they will still hold interest and maintain their reputations for always having an exciting piece of gossip handy. Haven't we all been the victims of this "good" neighbor?

The old proverb, "Familiarity breeds contempt," may be aptly applied to the borrower. Getting to know him is one of our worst misfortunes. We fear to call anything our own, because the borrower will probably claim it, if the article in question has been traded back and forth often enough to make ownership doubtful. If it doesn't stop with a cup of sugar, a real problem may arise, and some morning we may find ourselves without a coffee pot or an overcoat or even the family car. Stay clear of the borrower or else scare him off with a little snitching on your own part. You might try borrowing a few large pieces of furniture for a beginning.

The socially superior are another example of neighbors. You may be politely invited to dinner sometime, but if the host is class-conscious, the chances are that you will not escape feeling completely uncomfortable and out of place. You did your part by accepting the invitation, even if reluctantly, but social barriers have always caused much unhappiness even in the United States. What a battle we shall have won when all prejudice and intolerance disappear from the American scene!

One of the biggest menaces to peaceful living is the telephone. Teenagers may be the chief offenders on the party wires, but there are many grownups who just talk too much! You can't cut down on their lengthy calls, no matter how nicely you state your needs. It is equally intolerable to have eavesdroppers catching your conversations. You may hear an icy voice say, "Mrs. Jones, would you mind hanging up till I'm finished," or, sarcastically, "Well, Mabel, I won't say another word until that busybody stops listening." The braver soul says loudly, "Get off this phone . . . NOW!" This vexing problem has a simple solution, fair sharing. But the party-wire sufferers will probably never believe me.

Does it seem to you that I live in the midst of only selfish and thoughtless people? That is not the impression I wish to convey, for I know that there are many who live around us that take a genuine interest in our affairs. They do not wait to be called on to give assistance, but are always present at the crucial moment, when we most need and appreciate advice and kindness. Lending THEM a cup of sugar is sheer joy. Whatever you tell them, you have no doubt that your personal remarks will go no further. There is no pretending between you, but instead such an honesty that it makes the bond of friendship tighter.

Is it, however, any wonder that we have so many international troubles that seem far from solution when we have difficulty getting along with our own neighbors? Consider every one of your good neighbors as a ray of sunshine in a cloud-filled sky. And have hope, because some day that sun must push through and we shall all be proud of the part we played in making the earth a bright and shining place.

CLASS HISTORY

Scene: Thanksgiving Day, 1955—Willow Brook Park—After the New Britain-Bulkeley football game.

Don: Hi, Joyce! I haven't seen you for a long time.

Joyce: That's right, not since we graduated from Bulkeley five years ago.

Don: Did you ever see such a football game? Boy, it's about time we beat New Britain. What a score! Bulkeley 56—New Britain 0.

Joyce: Beating New Britain was always our main ambition as students of B.H.S. Right from our first day as freshmen.

Don: Yeah! Remember the first day we entered the big house? Some of us were shy—like Kenny Stuer.

Joyce: But most of us made ourselves right at home—like Joan Hathaway.

Don: We attended our first dance at Bulkeley that year put on by the Girls' League and Boys' Club. Wasn't that the time that Lucille Flanigan was so thrilled because she was appointed chairman of the "Clean Up" Committee?

Joyce: We freshmen were always trying to make the honor roll. I remember one boy especially who was so thrilled when he made the half-year honor list. In fact, it was the one and only time David Lynch ever did make it.

Don: We were rather insignificant our first year, but our sophomore year our ranks were doubled by the arrival of the other half of our class led by "Fingers" Soulos, "Bouncer" Ucich, "Hooper" Mazurek, and sundry characters from Burr.

Joyce: That year we all participated eagerly in many of the school organizations. But how we envied the upperclassmen when they started planning for their proms and formals!

Don: All except "Bud" Carr, Bob Herlihy, and "Ish" Myers who profoundly proclaimed that they were "through with women" after reading "Taming of the Shrew".

Joyce: Seeing the play put on in the auditorium may have influenced them, too.

Don: Yes, I can't say it added much to my appreciation of Shakespeare, but maybe it explains why I'm a confirmed bachelor. There were only a few sophomores outstanding enough to make a showing in athletics. Ray Barry made the first team in football, and Charlie Mazurek started his brilliant career on the basketball court.

Joyce: During the summer vacation that year, our principal, Dr. Gustave A. Feingold, died. His death was a shock not only to the school which he had guided with sincere devotion since its inception, but to the whole community which he had served so long and faithfully. It was in a sober mood, therefore, that we returned to the school as upperclassmen. That fall, Mr. McCrann assumed the duties of Principal.

Don: Yes, we learned Mr. McCrann could do other things well besides discipline. Do you remember the Maytime Hop, Bulkeley's first old-clothes dance at which we were treated to a view of Mr. Leo in dungarees and a blazing red flannel shirt!

Joyce: When we were juniors a new system was devised for picking the cheerleaders. Most of the girls who were finally chosen were from our class. Let's see, there were Margaret Barry, Joyce Flydal, Claire Kidney.

Don: Yes, and Janet Menser, Jill Radigan, and Pauline Wolf. I may be prejudiced, but I think they were the best cheerleaders the school has ever had.

Joyce: Wasn't that the year the girls were first allowed to go into the schoolyard with the boys during recess?

Don: Yes, we boys were rather downhearted when we discovered that our ten minutes of reverie each day in our private patio had to be shared with the very disinterested females of the school.

Joyce: But the girls appreciated the change. It was our turn to watch the boys when they had their gym classes.

Don: One of the most unforgettable events of our Junior year was our T.B. tests. Just the thought of them still "needles" me.

Joyce: I get your point.

Don: Al Stenberg, our famous diver, added nationwide honors to his state diving championship when he was elected to the All American Scholastic Diving Squad.

Joyce: The Senior Dramatic Club put on a wonderful play that year entitled "Fly Away Home". Nina Perez stole the show with her sensational portrayal of Maria, the provocative Portuguese girl. We really had a talented class.

Don: Speaking about talented people, George Soulos certainly was a genius at the piano. He was an outstanding participant in many of our school affairs.

Joyce: Remember our Junior Prom! That was a gala affair!

Don: Jean Hayes was the center of attraction at the dance not only because she did an excellent job as general chairman, but also because she was chosen Queen of the Prom.

Joyce: The Boys' Club-Girls' League Dance started the mad whirl of our Senior year with "Eggy" Salone and Jean Hayes as co-chairmen.

Don: Yes, during the fall we were kept busy with class elections and football games starring Ray Barry, Joe Cirone, Nonnie and Paul Randazzo, Bernie Demonte, Loren Lorenzetti, Joe Guglietta, and "Ish" Myers, all of whom well deserved the letters which they received.

Joyce: Speaking of elections, Pauline Wolf and Paul McDonough were elected co-editors of the Torch.

Don: That year saw the inauguration of the first Hartford Junior City Council. Bulkeley's representatives in the original Council were Betty Ucich, Bob Smith, and George Soulos.

Joyce: Remember when Elfriede Roth won the Grace F. Garvin Award?

Don: Sure, just about that time Fran Chamberlain and Jack Boyajian were mooching retorts and vials from Mr. Coburn for their Torch Nite skit.

Joyce: Then sports took over again, and our cheers for Charlie Mazurek, "Bud" Carr, Pete Pinchera, and Bob Smith were well rewarded by the fine 10-6 record that the boys turned in.

Don: "Buddy" was really busy that year as Editor-in-chief of our classbook. He didn't have a minute to spare, not even in those long, leisurely lunch periods. I suppose you girls liked those lunch periods as a real chance for feminine gossip.

Joyce: Why, no, Don, you've got us all wrong. That's when we learned irregular French verbs for Mr. Daly.
Senior Nite was a huge success with Al Lamo as M.C.

Don: Class Night, too, will long be remembered. Bob Pikul did a swell job of presiding over that occasion.

Joyce: But the most memorable event of the year was the Senior Reception.

Don: Yes, "Eggy" Salone and his committees really worked hard to make our last formal and Senior Banquet both complete successes.

Joyce: Well, I've got to be going, Don. I hope I'll see you again soon.

Don: Same here, Joyce. Why not get together at the next alumni dance and "hash" over old times, that is, if I can "ketchup" with you?

Joyce: That's an idea! Then we'd get our money's worth from those alumni dues!
So long.

Don: So long.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of Nineteen-Hundred and Fifty, being of sound mind and body, and having acquired more than we need of everything, do hereby bequeath in this our Last Will and Testament our desirable characteristics and abilities to those deserving.

To Mr. McCrann we leave our sincere hopes that he will continue his efforts to make Bulkeley a more democratic institution.

To Mr. Hart we leave a scooter to take him to all his classes.

To Mr. Doolittle we leave the book, "How to become overbearing in Ten Easy Lessons".

To Miss Purcell we bequeath Dick Fanelli so that she may enjoy many more enlightening conversations in French.

To Miss Potter we leave our everlasting thanks for her great aid in helping us produce our Classbook.

To Bulkeley we leave Mr. Wilson as a symbol of friendliness and good disposition.

Lorraine Pallone leaves her brains to Julia Howard, in case she ever needs them.

Betty York leaves her glamour to Bess Parasholes and Mary Vendetta.

Jack Boyajian leaves his quiet, dignified nature to Morgan Wilson.

Doris Carone leaves her jet black hair to Pat Scully.

Betty Dunlap and George Soulos leave their jokes to anyone who will laugh at them.

Barbara Larson and Beverly Bransfield leave their voices as a stage whisper for future Senior Dramatic Club productions.

John Carr leaves his terrific personality to Peter Barry.

Louis Cersosimo leaves Mr. Charles Ingalls a little happier.

Tommy Leonard and Raymond Blasko leave their speed in the quarter mile to Bill Maycock.

Betty Starbard leaves her vitality to Jo Macher.

Joyce Gray leaves, still talking.

Wally Hanford leaves his motions to Jimmy "Fingers" Hadden.

Barbara and Doie Brown leave like night and day.

Earl Devins leaves his blond good looks to Jerry Winalski.

Jean Hayes leaves her ability in French to Theresa Russo.

Al Alexander leaves his versatile ways to Guy Bedrossian.

Joan Lenz leaves her quiet little chuckle to Barbara Wilkos.

Patsy Pastore wills his voice to Perry Como.

Joyce Flydal leaves her dreaminess to Cynthia Shiembob.

Bob Smith leaves his "love 'em and leave 'em" technique to Johnny Kendros.

Mary Amaio leaves her whistle to any junior boy with a roving eye.

Lorraine McDonald and Vivian Smith leave their quiet manner and friendly smiles to Eileen Galvin.

Johnny Gionfriddo and Barbara Ohl leave together.

Bob Herlihy leaves his groans during tests as advertisements for Bromo-Seltzer.

Pam Calvani and Johnny Tseka leave their friendliness to any poor frosh who is cringing from some senior's icy glare.

Jeanette Markette and Betty Pensiero leave their ability to dig up news to Walter Winchell.

Walter Lee leaves his "ole reliable" model "T" to the junk man.

Nina Perez leaves her enthusiasm to bolster up our cheering section at the New Britain games.

Eugene Rochette and Edward Suchecki leave their ability in math to Albert Einstein.

Terry Cadieux and Edna Hollerieth leave their quiet sophistication to Ann Di Prato.

The class leaves ten dozen false teeth to the cafeteria to replace those lost when eating toasted cheese sandwiches.

Leonard Lukevitch leaves his gangling limbs to Bob Grabek.

Betty Zimmerman leaves the class wondering.

Bob Pikul and Tony Setaro leave their way with the women to Roger Vertefeuille.
 Lorraine Roman leaves in a clatter.
 Carmelo Russo, Ray Kolodziej, and Harry Swanson leave their artistic ability to Francis Cunnane.
 Pauline Wolf leaves her successful feats of eating and sleeping in class to any daring frosh.
 Ray Barry and Joseph Cirone leave their marvelous talents in sports to Frank Mirabello and John Hurley, hoping they will use them.
 Jean Brueggestrat leaves her lithe figure to Patty Plourd.
 Patty Torza and Lucille Gozzo leave their combined talents in sports to Dot Simms.
 Francis Chamberlain and Herby Wyer leave the entire faculty sighing with relief.
 Anna Marcuccio leaves her look of wide-eyed innocence to Marietta Albert.
 Dick Barone wills his size thirteen shoes to Peter Forte.
 Jill Radigan, Bulkeley's Blonde Bombshell, leaves her vivacity to Gloria Bordonaro.
 Stanley Kida and David Lynch leave their curly locks to Robert Zito.
 Helen Brajczewski leaves her ideal ways to Judy Wade.
 Irwin Sklar leaves in a deafening roar.
 Lois Johnson leaves her ability to brighten up the dulllest moments to Bette Muir.
 Phil Galizia leaves his pleasant smile to Dick Kasper.
 June Miller leaves her shy, retiring nature to Merna Goldsmith.
 Charlie Mazurek leaves Bulkeley as one of its greatest basketball players.
 Margaret Barry leaves her facial expressions to Bob Hope.
 Phil Griffin leaves his masculine physique to Richard Farina.
 Noella Lachapelle leaves her unforgettable Torch Nite performances to Angela Tobias.
 Richard Tassistro leaves with the ambition of becoming a Don Juan.
 Millie Brink leaves, tired.
 Sebastian Randazzo leaves Betty Franconi a little lonelier.
 Leona Filkowski and Al Lamo leave their wagging tongues to perpetual motion.
 Mona Miller leaves her be-bop ability to Dolores Paulson.
 Tommy Dillon leaves his high marks in chemistry to any junior class genius.
 Lavinia MacDonald leaves her smile to Jeanne Brancheri and Britt Carlson.
 Karl Schanzer leaves his extensive vocabulary to the Webster Dictionary Company.
 Connie Sena leaves her good nature to be spread around during future mid-years.
 Roger Letendre leaves his build to Felix Karsky.
 Clare Kidney and Janet Menser leave their inspiring cheers to Anita Nazuruk and Alice Pasechnick.
 Teresa Glowinski leaves wondering "Whot hoppen".
 Ignazio Salone leaves his social position to the King of England.
 Leona Paslaski and Lorraine Guimont leave their studious ways to Phyllis Krupenevich and Dorothy Cwikla.
 Betty Ucich leaves still trying to get an "E" in chemistry.
 Alan Stenberg leaves Bulkeley without a swimming team.
 Thomas Gaffney leaves his ready wit to Paul Fehrenbach.
 Ralph Lettieri leaves his "I'm alive" expression to Jerry Lewis.
 Anthony Cianfaglione leaves his fear of the fairer sex to Victor Camilleri.
 Ray Cwikla leaves the school band minus a Harry James.
 Pete Pinchera leaves us wondering what we have to leave him.
 The Senior Class leave behind them four wonderful years spent in the halls of Bulkeley.
 In witness whereof, we the Testator and Testatrix of the Class of Nineteen-Hundred and Fifty, having disposed of our priceless wealth, do hereby affix our seals and signatures to this our Last Will and Testament.

G.S. Well—

N.P. Precisely what I thought! Let's see what we can see!

G.S. Me first! Me first! (LOOKS INTO TELESCOPE) What strange planet is that I see?

N.P. Let me see! (pause) That's no planet; it's a rocket ship, and look who's at the controls.

G.S. Why, it's Louis Cerosimo—and isn't that Walter Lee, Mike Delisa, and Jim Lennon pushing it?

N.P. You're right! and look—there's Alan Stenberg in the rear cockpit waving his arms and legs!

G.S. Maybe he thinks he's swimming! Let's focus our masterpiece over here.

N.P. Oooh! Look at the rings on Saturn!

G.S. Oh! yeah? well, look at the legs on Venus!

N.P. Why, that looks like the Shanzer publishing company way down there on the planet earth!

G.S. Yes, and that big poster says that their newest publication "How to be a successful chemist," written by Drs. Eggie Salone, Dave Lynch, and Nancy Brinkman, was illustrated by Mary Amaio and Mary Paskov, noted artists. The authors have included in the book some important facts about the nitrates.

N.P. Yes! They are a lot cheaper than day rates! I think I'll run down and get a copy. All I have to do is send in 1,500 box tops of Pinchera's Pest Poison. Ah! and it seems in addition, we receive two free tickets to the Lorenzetti auditorium where "Killer" Gozzo will wrestle Margaret Barry for the first time.

G.S. I'd much rather spend a nice quiet evening in the Lenz and Lenz Diner, eating food especially prepared by Chefs Angela Mozzicato and Jack Hughes, and perhaps later see Brueggestrat's Ballet starring Phil Griffin!

N.P. Hmm! what's the planet far to the right? Look's like Pluto. Ed Suchecki owns that now, doesn't he?

G.S. Yes! It seems he has set up a Utopian planet, ideal in many respects. That modern-looking building on the corner of Plaia Piazza and Torza's Terrace looks like a pretzel-bending factory. There's Pauline Wolf, Elaine Coyne, and Billy Bumster working.

N.P. Let's see what's going on in the Ritzy MacDonough and Setaro theater on Bansavich Boulevard. Isn't that the famous debutante, Ann Carnemolla, who just came in? The audience is packed with such noted critics as Nancy Urrichio, Claire Kidney, and Fran Chamberlain.

G.S. Guess the show's starting, for here come Lavinia MacDonald, Joyce Flydal, and Betty Starbard in their bubble dancing act. It seems that they were taught their bubble routine by Bob Perry. He's certainly a good teacher!

N.P. What's that huge crowd of people back-stage? Why, it's Jill Radigan and Ray Barry and their family! Let's turn the telescope north to Alaska. George! There's "Bouncer" Uchich with a spade in her hand. What's she trying to do?

G.S. Oh, I read it in the newspapers! She's trying to grow bananas! There's Terry Carone, Bob Herlihy, and Irene Kolosky trying to teach the penguins how to bebop for the new ice show produced by Betty Pensiero and directed by Joe Cirone, who has lately achieved success with his new play, "Fearless Fusco's Football Fantasies."

N.P. That large, imposing building is Mortician Bob Smith's new business establishment. People are just dying to see him.

G.S. Yes. He's the last one to let you down.

N.P. Look—there's Patsy Pastore, Al Lamo, and Carm Russo, brilliant architects who are building low cost igloos for the Eskimos!

G.S. You're right! Let's turn the telescope to the west. What's that cable suspended between Mars and Neptune?

N.P. Looks like a tight rope. Why, here comes Gloria Envia singing a solo from the famed opera, "Donlin's Derby"!

G.S. She certainly has climbed to new heights!

N.P. She's stopping by Connie Sena's "Lunar Pastures" for discontented cows. Two of the dairymaids, Stem Stamos and Helen Brajewski, were hurt when Mike Tragakis, the famous toreador, threw the bull.

G.S. I've heard so much about the newly constructed George R. Cataldi High School on the remote planet Uranus. Let's focus our telescope upon it. It is said that their education system surpasses even that of Bulkeley High!

N.P. No! But it's true that I've heard a great deal about their Latin department under Professors Walter Lee and Pat Bannon, ably assisted by Lucy Useforge, Jack Nylen, "Ish" Myers, and Nancy Transue.

G.S. There's the art department flourishing under the supervision of Elsie Quigley, who is noted for her action in the anti-slave movements at Cataldi High.

N.P. What's that commotion in the town hall across the street?

G.S. It seems that Marcia Wheeler, the most talkative girl in town, is being sued by her next door neighbor, James Fiorino, for keeping him awake nights. Marcia is being ably defended, however, by the law firm Paskaski, Filkowski, Kolosky, and Flanigan.

N.P. Look at the parade going by! I wonder where Verna Freeman is? She always had a mania for parades.

G.S. There she is at home waving her hair!

N.P. My goodness! Can't she afford a flag?

G.S. The occasion for the parade is "Shiembob Day" in honor of Larry Shiembob who eliminated capital punishment in the kindergarten.

N.P. Look! There's Joan Akerly, Noella LaChapelle, Norma Amore, Elfriede Roth, Robert Forte, and Al Alexander playing as faithfully as they did in Bulkeley's band!

G.S. We've lingered long enough on Uranus; let's see what's cooking on Jupiter. Isn't that the elite model, Anna Jablonski, of the Mullane Modeling Agency, walking into Sloppy Joe's diner?

N.P. Yes, and there's June Miller, Lorraine Guimont, Joe Guglietta, Jean Hayes, Subby Randazzo, and Edward Lawler, sitting at their favorite booth forever sipping "the sodaless fizz"!

G.S. Isn't that Frank Russo standing in front of Digregorio's department store? He seems to be looking at the sign which says "Ladies ready-to-wear clothes", and probably thinking, "It's about time!"

N.P. Some of the sales people look mighty familiar. Why, I'm sure that's our old buddy, Jack Boyajian. And there are Sandy Senofonte, Nancy Petro, and Angie Latrina all working diligently.

G.S. Let's turn our masterpiece this way past Weymouth's muscle-building shop, and past Browne's delicatessen, whose specialty, incidentally, is baloney, up to the carnival which we've heard so much about. That disguise the bearded lady has on isn't fooling me any. It's Phil Moreau!

N.P. Snake charmers Rita Cunningham, Anna Oquissanti, and Beverly Toubman are certainly doing a good job.

G.S. And so are Evelyn Redlich, Janet Menser, Perry Coppa, and Bette York as Arabian dancing girls.

N.P. Guess who is the barker. Believe it or not it's Why, George, something seems to be happening to the telescope. Everything is fading away.

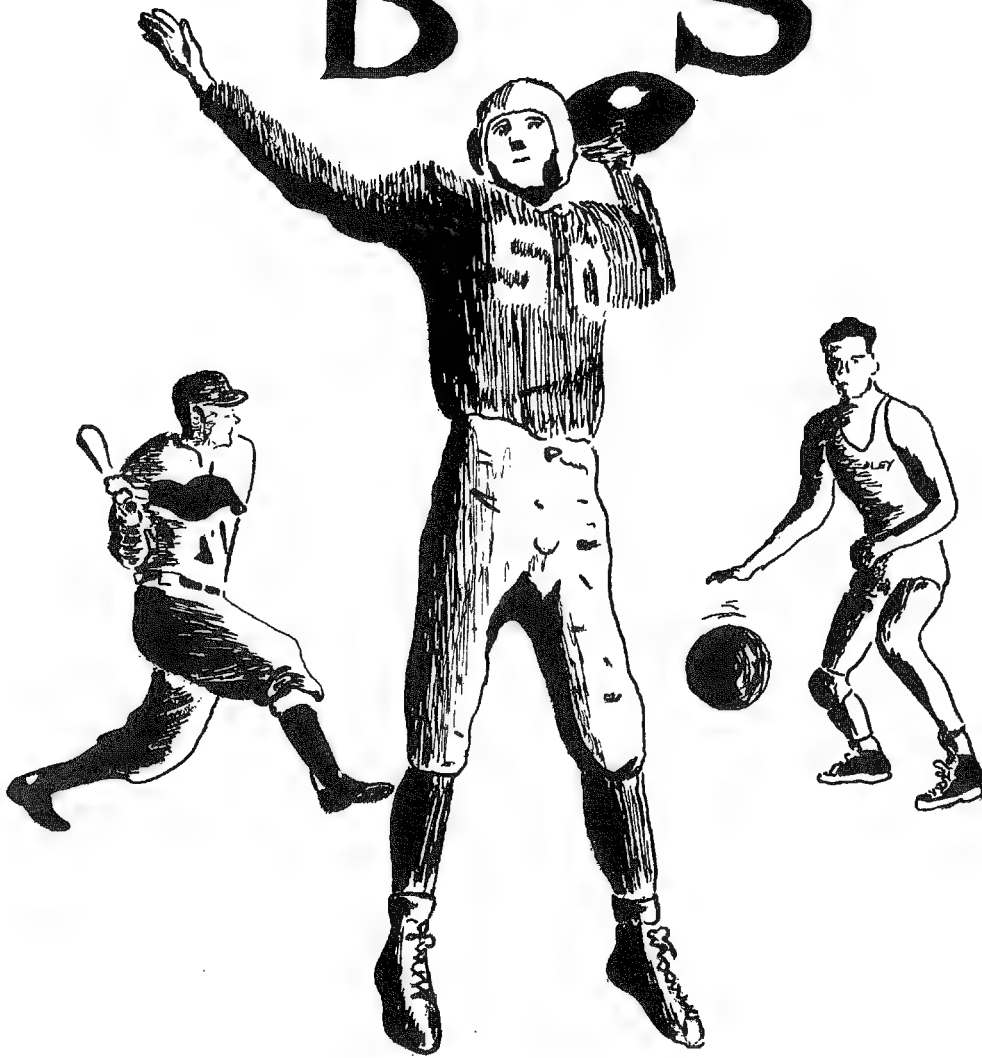

G.S. Oh, No! Alas! We'll never be able to construct another like it! Oh, well, we shall always cherish the memories of our Bulkeley classmates that it has brought us. Good-bye, Nina!

N.P. Good-bye, George.

FOOTBALL 1949

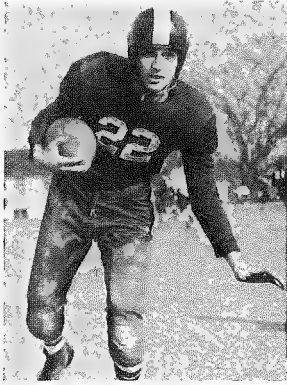

Heads or Tails?

Boasting a won-5-and-lost-3 record for the season, Bulkeley High's 1949 eleven has a good claim to be classed along with the better crop of football teams seen here at the Southend. The Maroons first tasted the fruits of victory at the opening game, but were then humbled two straight times before recovering themselves to down their next four opponents before being stopped in the final game. This not only equalled but bettered the record of their 1948 predecessors.

Coach "Babe" Allen's pigskin warriors started the season off with a bang by crushing a highly-touted Chicopee Squad, 20-0. The game was highlighted by a 98-yard romp that was good for a touchdown on a pass interception by Ray Barry. A week later, the Southenders journeyed downstate to meet West Haven in quest of their second victory. The "Blue Devils" proved to be more than a match for the Maroons, with a variety of deceptive pitch-outs, reverses, and fakes which had the Allenmen guessing for a while. Trailing 7-0 in the second stanza, B.H.S. fullback Felix Karsky intercepted a West Haven pass and scooted 95 yards downfield for the lone Bulkeley score. Barry's try for the point was good, to tie the score at 7-7, but midway through the last stanza the "Blue Devils" scored again to make the final score, 13-6, West Haven.

The following week, Hartford High's talent-loaded Blue and White squad drubbed the Allenmen by a 34-7 margin. Finally the Southenders caught fire and downed Crosby 12-6, and Chapman Tech, 26-6 in quick fashion. With Jim Murphy at the pivot post, Paul Fehrenback and "Ish" Myers, guards; "Mule" Skelley and Mike Tragakiss, tackles; Joe Cirone and Jack Hurley at the wings; and Ray Barry, Paul Randazzo, Guy Bedrossian, Felix Karsky, Joe Guglietta, Jack Scelza, and Frankie Mirabello alternating in the backfield slots, the Maroons toppled Weaver 39-0. They were sparked by Ray Barry, Joe Cirone, "Mule" Skelley, and Frankie Mirabello, and scored three touchdowns each half to give the Allenmen their most decisive gridiron triumph for the '49 season. Frankie Mirabello and Ray Barry were both outstanding in this contest. Mirabello scored three touchdowns on jaunts of 32, 30, and 28 yards. Barry scored once and also spearheaded the ground attack.

In the next game, Hall High, which had been an in-and-out ball club all season, gave Bulkeley's stout-hearted eleven a good scare as they held the hard-hitting Bulkeley gridmen to little yardage throughout the game. Finally fullback Felix Karsky connected for a 30-yard pass to the outstretched arms of Al Alexander, who received on the 15-yard stripe and raced all the way to pay dirt for the lone Bulkeley tally of the game. The 1949 season drew to a close as "Babe" Allen's charges were downed by New Britain, 25-13. Bulkeley's first score came early in the first stanza on a shoe-string catch by Felix Karsky. Later on, Frankie Mirabello scored in the waning minutes of the game for the second T.D., followed by Scelza's successful try for the point. The "'49" squad became the fourth Southend eleven to score against the Red and Gold, and equalled the feat of the 1944 array who also scored 13 points.

"Mule" Skelley, outstanding lineman for the season, received one of the highest football honors in the state by being selected as a first string member of the 1949 All-State team. Last year, Skelley was elected to a second string berth. The Maroons also placed three men on the All-District Team in the persons of Joe Cirone, Ray Barry, and "Mule" Skelley. Frankie Mirabello, Jim Murphy, and Bill Dion were chosen on the second team of the All-District eleven.

BASKETBALL

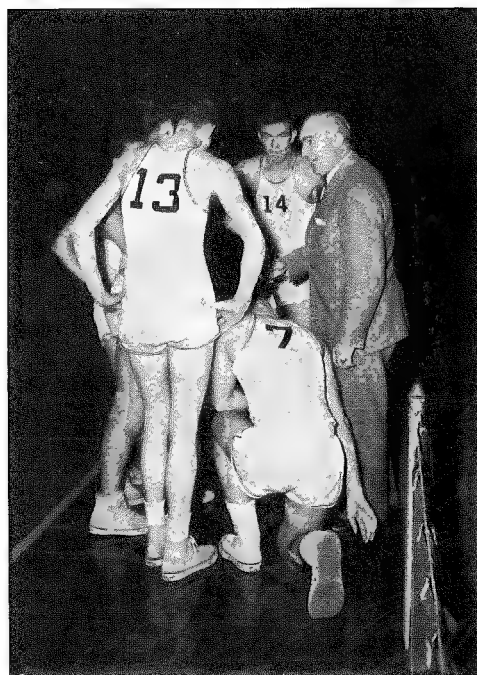

Even before the decks had been cleared of football paraphernalia, Bulkeley High's basketball talent started preparing in full strength for its 1949-1950 campaign. This year's Maroon and White squad upheld in fine style the tradition that Bulkeley was always one of the harder quintets to beat, by posting a 10-6 record for the season.

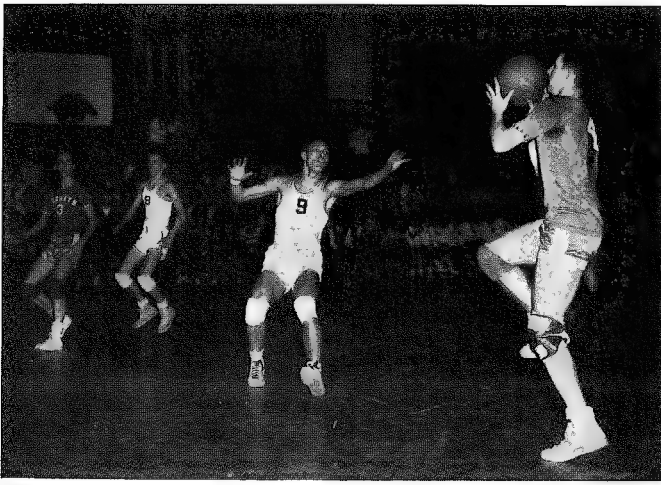

Paced by veterans Charlie Mazurek, Southend court ace, and Pete Pinchera, rebound specialist, and aided by newcomers Roger Lynch, Felix Karsky, and Bob Grabek, the Allenmen captured both the city and district titles.

The Southenders took things in their stride as they defeated Meriden 42-38 for their first victory. Charlie Mazurek hooped 14 points for the game's scoring honors, while Roger Lynch collected eight.

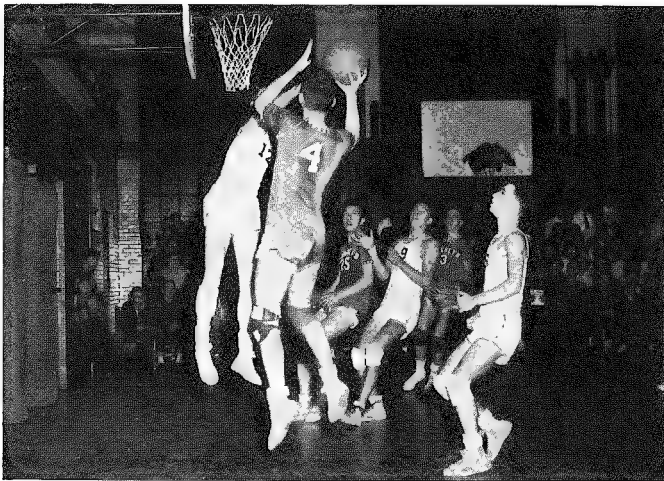

In the next contest, Hall bowed to the Southenders 27-23 at the West Siders' home court.

Shooting for win number three, the Maroons journeyed to East Hartford to avenge a defeat from the previous season. The East Siders had edged the B.H.S. quintet 44-37 at the New Haven Arena to eliminate the Allenmen from the 1949 semi-finals. Controlling both backboards and displaying expert Guard 'im Close, Felix!

"Get Way Up There!"

marksmanship, the Bulkeley "5" led the Godingmen 19-2 at the half, 30-9 at the third turn and 40-26 at the final whistle, to give them their third win in as many starts. However, the sparkle of the victory soon wore off when players were informed that an ineligible player had been used and that the contest would be forfeited to East Hartford. This gave the Maroons a 2-1 record that was changed to a 2-2 mark a week later when the Golden Hurricanes of New Britain came to town to down Bulkeley 39-25.

Charlie Mazurek, all-around stellar performer, was lost to the squad for one game because of a nose ailment. With the prospects ahead looking none too rosy, the Allenmen tackled West Haven, only to find the presence of the talented young star not missed as the starting five of Felix Karsky, Roger Lynch, Pete Pinchera, Bob Smith, and Jack Hurley battered the Blue Devils to the tune of 44-23. Felix Karsky paced the attack with 15 points, while Bob Smith and Roger Lynch also hit double figures with 14 and 10 points each. Just about two weeks later, the presence of Mazurek was noted back in the Bulkeley lineup. Although not absolutely recovered from his operation, the Bulkeley ace paced his teammates to a 46-45 decision over the same West Haven team by siniking 23 points to cop all scoring honors. The last two of these points were in the final three seconds of the overtime, when the lanky senior was fouled attempting a shot. Trailing 45-44 at this point, Mazurek hooped his first try to knot the count 45-45, and then with perfect finesse swished the next one to clinch the game for Bulkeley. Although the Maroon and White "5" had won without him with room to spare in the last game, they never could have turned the trick without Mazurek in this contest. A few days later the Bulkeley quintet traveled to Willimantic in search of victory number six against a strong Windham five, but the Whippets got off to an early start and were leading the Maroons 30-21 at halftime. Fighting uphill all the way, the Allenmen failed to keep pace with the Red and Blue-clad squad led by "Tillie" Dubose and Steve Vadnais, who paced Windham to a 49-44 win over the Southenders.

Trinity College's mammoth fieldhouse was the scene for Bulkeley rooters the next four Fridays, as the Bulkeley five grappled with Hartford and Weaver in an attempt to keep the City Championship in the Southend. In the first battle with Hartford High, the Allenmen lost to the smooth-working "Owls" by a 42-36 count on Friday the 13th, strangely enough. Next, the Southenders met the Weaver quintet who were subdued 31-25, in an especially drab contest for a City Series tussle. Hartford proved easy for the vastly improved Bulkeley squad as they racked their seventh win with a 47-35 victory over the Loikamen. Felix Karsky and Pete Pinchera performed well under both backboards in setting up plays that helped the Maroons time and time again. The following week, Weaver bowed once more to the Allenmen 44-37, giving Bulkeley outright possession of the city title for the second consecutive year.

The Maroons were not inactive during the week days, but were busy stretching their record of triumphs from seven to nine with decisions over Meriden and Hall by margins of 42-40 and 48-33, respectively. Roger Lynch was the star of the Meriden game, with 14 points for the night, including a spectacular one-handed set shot from half court in the waning seconds to sew up the win for the Maroons.

Encountering East Hartford in the second game of a home and home series, the Allenmen whipped the East Side crew by a decisive 51-23 score. Mazurek and Grabek led the offensive with 19 and 11 points each, but Pinchera and Karsky again proved their worth by gaining complete control of both backboards to give the much more powerful Southenders victory number ten and the District Championship to boot. This marks the second straight year that the B.H.S. quintet has held the title. This game was highlighted by "Buddy" Carr's first basket of the year which he sunk in the fourth stanza of the game. He received a rising ovation from the B.H.S. fans. This was the last win of the season for the Allenmen as they bowed to Windham 52-45 in a typical Bulkeley-Windham thriller, and to explosive

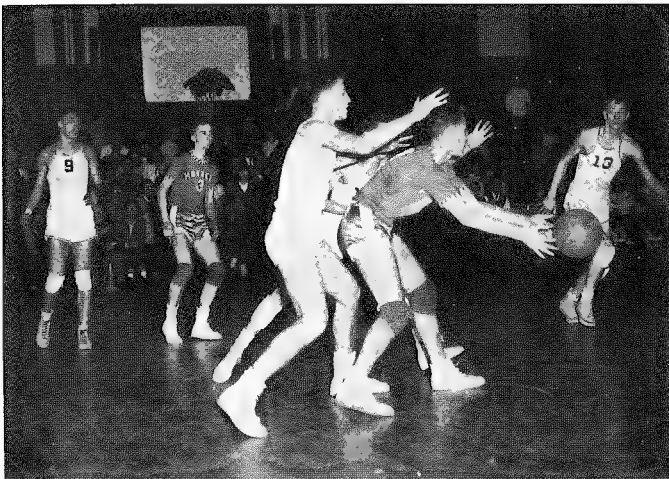

Bevo Claims a Rebound

New Britain, who scored a 66-43 victory over the Maroon quintet at the Hardware City.

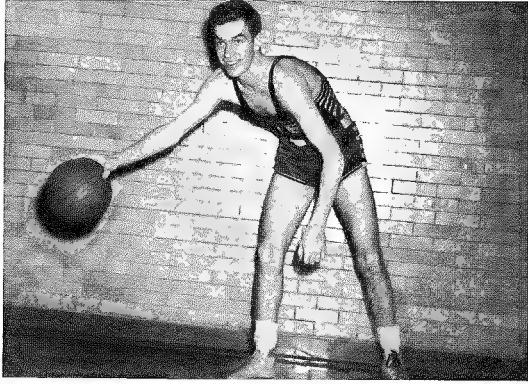

In the twenty-eighth CIAC tournament which was held at the spacious New Haven Arena, Bulkeley, ranked tenth in Class A competition, met the fifth-ranked Bristol quintet in the playdowns. Although the Bell Towners were a favored tourney squad from the start, "Babe" Allen's charges staged one of the biggest upsets of the season by overcoming the Bristol cagers 50-46 in an action-packed thriller, where tension was at its peak throughout the entire game. With the score deadlocked 20-20 at the half-way mark and 38-38 at the third pole, it was merely a matter of time as to which team would prove the victor. After five minutes had elapsed, the Southenders had surged ahead 48-43, but two Bristol free throws found the mark to make the count 48-45. The Maroons retaliated with charity tosses by Pinchera and Mazurek to jack the score up to 50 in the final minute, and Bristol's best effort after that was a free throw, giving the Allenmen a 50-46 upset over highly favored Bristol, plus being advanced to the quarter-finals.

After having downed Bristol 50-46 in the play-downs, the Maroons were then advanced to the quarter-finals where the Allenmen were picked to face their arch rival from the Hardware City, New Britain, which had been ranked second. The Southenders had already faced the Red and Gold twice in the regular season and been beaten decisively both times. The score of the first game was 39-25 and of the second, 66-43. In this all-important game, the Allenmen got their worst case of "tournament jitters" yet, and "choked" as soon as they got on the floor. The Maroons couldn't cope with the New Britain quintet who hit from all angles to leave the Bulkeley squad on the short end of a 58-34 margin, and the finale of basketball for the Southenders in the '49-'50 season.

Thus, one of the best teams in the long string of great court squads here at Bulkeley rang down the curtain for the year. Charlie Mazurek, Pete Pinchera, Felix Karsky, Roger Lynch, and Bob Grabek will always be remembered as members of a team that played a fine brand of basketball on the court and provided as fine an example of sportsmanship as any team ever to wear the Maroon and White of Bulkeley.

Substitutes were: Jimmy Murphy, Bob Smith, Ignazio E. Salone, Ervie Cermola, Bevo Hurley, and Buddy Carr.

CROSS-COUNTRY

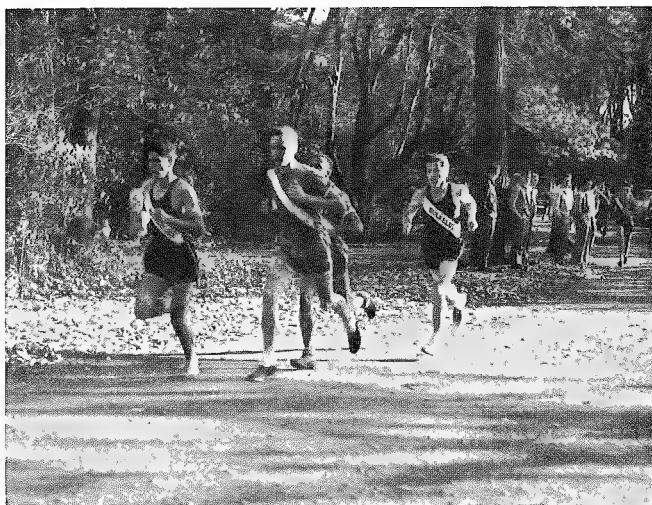

The Big Three

Although still in its infancy, Coach "Flash" Atlin's two year-old Cross-Country team surprised many of the older and more experienced squads by sporting a healthy 4-1 record for the regular season by the time the State Meet rolled around.

Out of a batch of five lettermen from last year's squad, four returned to wear the Maroon and White for B.H.S. in the persons of Captain Tommy Leonard, "Subby" Gallo, Tony Bray, and Earl Devins.

The Atlinmen started off the season with a bang as they trounced a hapless East Hartford squad 18-37. "Subby" Gallo captured first place honors, while teammates Bray and Leonard finished second and third respectively. The Maroons took five of the first seven places to outclass the East Siders by a good margin.

Next, the Bulkeley Couriers met Hartford and Weaver in a triangular meet at the Keeney Park course to decide the city Cross-Country championships. Although the "Owls" were heavy favorites to take the crown, the Southend squad had different ideas and soon showed them who was boss. Leonard raced across the finish line first, followed by Gallo in second place. Again the Atlinmen showed their prowess by copping four of the first seven places as Bray and Blasko came in fifth and seventh respectively, making the score Bulkeley 29, Hartford 31, and Weaver 60.

A short time later, the Maroon Harriers journeyed to Manchester in quest of their third victory, but couldn't quite cope with the much more powerful Manchester squad. Despite a valiant struggle, the Southenders bowed to the Silk City team 22-33 for their sole loss of the season.

Although suffering defeat at the hands of the Manchester array, the undaunted Bulkeley runners retaliated with a victory over New Britain, by nosing out the Red and Gold 26-29. Leonard and Gallo placed first and second respectively without any trouble, followed by Bray, Boornazian, and Blasko to clinch the win for the B.H.S. Couriers. (This meet ended the regular season for the Atlinmen who finished with a respectable record of four wins against one loss.)

Next came the State Meet at Wesleyan where Bulkeley had won fourth place a year ago. Out of a field of 18 schools, Bulkeley bettered its mark of the previous year by capturing second place honors. Fleet-footed Tommy Leonard was the first Bulkeley man to finish, as he copped sixth place out of one hundred twenty-seven odd positions. "Subby" Gallo finished four places behind in the tenth slot. The remaining Bulkeley entrants who placed were Bray, Blasko, and Boornazian.

The Maroons qualified for the New England Meet by virtue of its ranking in the top three places in the State Meet. Also held at Wesleyan was the New England Meet, where the Atlinmen held their own by placing eighth against the best seventeen teams in New England. Once more, Captain Tommy Leonard paced the squad by finishing fifth. Other Bulkeley runners who placed in this contest were "Subby" Gallo thirteenth, Tony Bray forty-fourth, Ray Blasko fifty-fourth, and Bill Boornazian fifty-seventh.

Although the squad's best runners will be leaving, "Flash" Atlin's Harriers can be counted on to keep their standing as a top-notch Cross-Country squad.

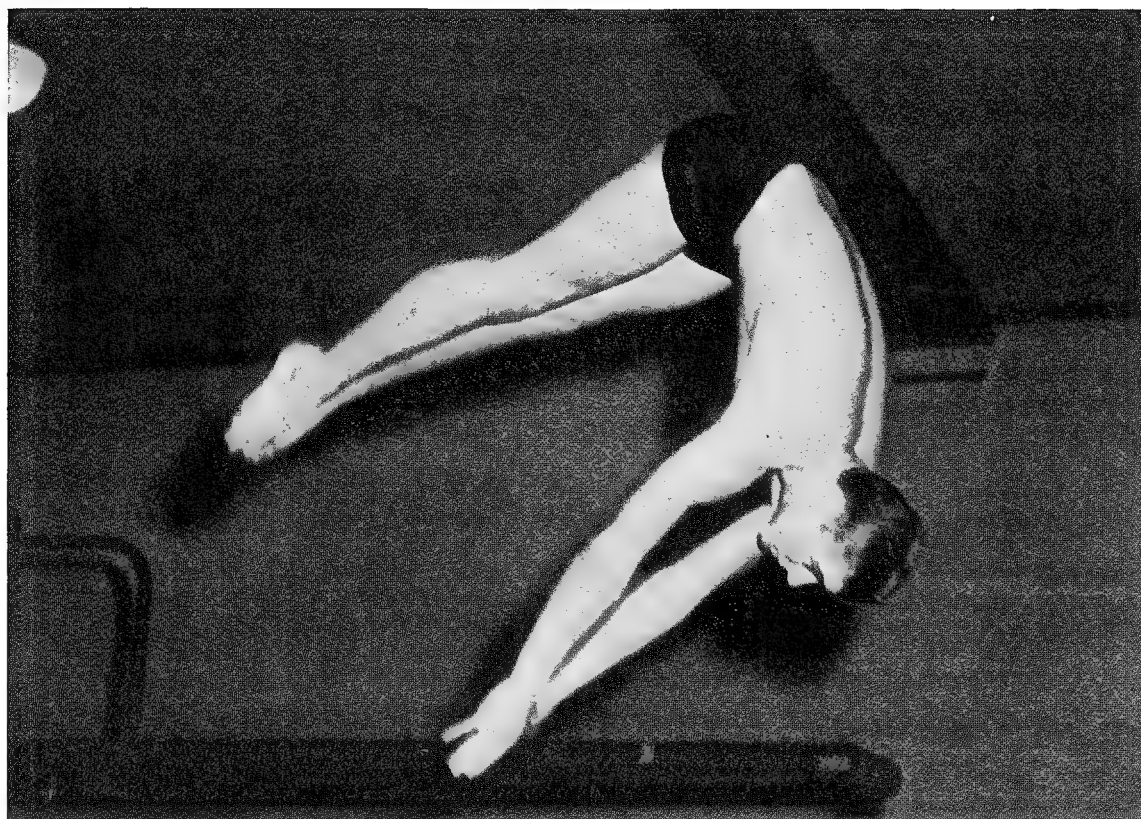

SWIMMING TEAM

Due to lack of experience, "Flash" Atlin's 1950 "Ducks" started off poorly and dropped their first five meets. But later, fighting hard all the way, the B.H.S. swimmers finished the season in brilliant fashion by downing Windham, Wilbur Cross, and Wilcox Tech in rapid fire order to end the season with a 3-5 record.

Retaining only two lettermen from last year's crop of eight, the Southenders couldn't cope with the more experienced tankmen of the state. Al Stenberg, New England Diving Champion, who also copped All-American honors, was one of the mainstays of this year's squad. Freestyler Dick Barone proved to be the other. Dick Cardines, Bill Campbell, Dermie Rea, Bob Martone, Bill Taylor, Ron Berube, and Dick Clark, although undergraduates, boosted the squad throughout the season and will give Coach Atlin a fine nucleus for a better squad next year.
